

Consult The World's Summer Resort List Before Deciding Where to Go.

LAST EDITION. WIMAN IS SENTENCED.

He Must Serve Five Years and Six Months in State Prison.

TO GO TO SING SING TUESDAY

The Convicted Financier Hears
His Fate Calmly and Without Emotion.

TWO SONS PRESENT IN COURT.

Good Behavior Will Reduce His
Actual Sentence to 3 Years,
11 Months, 15 Days.

Erastus Wiman, the quondam well-known philanthropist and millionaire, was this morning sentenced to five years and six months in State prison, by Justice Ingraham, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

Mr. Wiman, in charge of Deputy Sheriff Brown, entered the Court-House at 8 o'clock. When they reached the head of the stairs leading to the courtroom, they were met by William Dwight Wiman and Harry Wiman, the prisoner's eldest and youngest sons. Both shook hands with their father, and inquired as to his health.

Mr. Wiman smiled and answered their inquiries briefly. He then inquired as to Mrs. Wiman.

The party at once entered the courtroom. Mr. Wiman took a seat in the room where the prisoner and his sons entered, and a whispered conversation between the convicted man and his lawyers followed.

Justice Ingraham entered and took a seat on the bench at exactly 10:02 o'clock. As soon as the court officer had called the case to order, Gen. Tracy arose and moved for a new trial. He said that his motion was based on three grounds: First, that the Court had misdirected the jury; second, that the verdict was contrary to law, and third, that the verdict was against the evidence.

The motion was denied, and Gen. Tracy then argued for a light sentence. He called attention to the verdict of the jury recommending the prisoner to the mercy of the Court, and also to the fact that the Court had made no award of costs against the prisoner.

At the conclusion of Gen. Tracy's speech the Clerk of the Court called: "Erastus Wiman to the bar."

"Have you anything to say why the sentence of the Court should not be lawfully passed upon you?"

For an answer Mr. Wiman shook his head.

Justice Ingraham then addressed the prisoner:

"The duty I have to perform is extremely painful, and one I would be glad to be rid of."

"The law does not punish for vengeance. It is not to gratify R. G. Dun or his associates, but to protect the society against crime. It is not to punish for the sake of punishing, but to protect the society against crime. It is not to punish for the sake of punishing, but to protect the society against crime."

CHICAGO, June 20.—It was reported to-day that Edward Corrigan, owner of Hawthorne, having been refused Turf Congress membership, will not apply to the Congress for a license for his track. This will make all owners, jockeys and officials who continue at Hawthorne after June 23 outlaws of the turf.

Corrigan is quoted as saying that if the Congress will not admit his track to membership he will get along without any recognition from the organization.

DRINKING, when done artistically, with taste and discrimination, is a most attractive pastime. Never attempt to combine it with anything else. If you can't stop, write Manager.

Wiman did not move a muscle and remained standing.

His son Harry reached out and taking him into a seat beside him. He then placed his other hand upon his father's and for a moment or two father and son gazed into each other's faces. For a second it seemed as if both would break down, as a suspicious moisture appeared in their eyes.

Then Mr. Wiman leaned over and whispered to his son. The semblance of a smile passed over their faces, and both leaned back in their chairs, apparently contented.

In the mean time Gen. Tracy and Mr. Boardman had been busy with pencil and paper, and Gen. Tracy asked Justice Ingraham what would be Mr. Wiman's actual imprisonment under the sentence when the deduction for good behavior had been made.

Justice Ingraham replied: "Three years, eleven months and fifteen days."

Gen. Tracy then moved for a certificate of reasonable doubt, and a stay of execution. Justice Ingraham replied that there was nothing before him then on which he could grant such a motion.

He said, however, that he would request the Sheriff not to take the prisoner to Sing Sing until next Tuesday, to allow his counsel to make a motion for the certificate of reasonable doubt before himself or some other Justice.

Mr. Wiman and Deputy Sheriff Brown left the building by the southern exit, closely followed by the prisoner's sons. Deputy Sheriff Brown raised an umbrella over his head, and Mr. Wiman held it over Mr. Wiman as they walked to the Tomb.

Just outside the Court-House an "Evening World" reporter asked Mr. Wiman if he had anything to say regarding his sentence. He looked at the reporter and half-way smiled, but before he could reply Deputy Sheriff Brown seemed to think that he, as the officer in charge of the prisoner, had a right to speak for him, and accordingly remarked: "Mr. Wiman has nothing to say."

Gen. Tracy and Mr. Boardman left the building by an opposite door shortly after Mr. Wiman's departure. Mr. Boardman said to an "Evening World" reporter that an application would be made to-morrow next day for a certificate of reasonable doubt.

A petition, signed by about one hundred and fifty or two hundred names of Staten Island, neighbors of Mr. Wiman, was presented to Justice Ingraham before the opening of the court, asking that the sentence be made as light as possible.

Justice Ingraham read his remarks in connection with the sentence from notes, which he turned over to the court stenographer, but instructed him to destroy them.

Quitting court followed Mr. Wiman and Deputy Sheriff Brown on their way to the Tomb.

A RED HAT FOR IRELAND.

The Archbishop's Elevation Said to Have Been Agreed Upon.

(By Associated Press.)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 20.—The announcement is made on excellent authority that Rev. Charles Koebert, of St. Paul, is to be made Bishop of St. Cloud, to succeed Bishop Zardetti, now Archbishop of St. Paul.

Three names were sent to the Pope by Archbishop Ireland, and Koebert was recommended most highly. The other two were Father Trobec, of St. Paul, and Father Abbe-llin, of Milwaukee.

Father Koebert is said to be in harmony with Ireland's liberal ideas, and at the same time satisfactory to the Benedictine Fathers, who are strong in the St. Cloud diocese.

There is an interesting rumor in Catholic churches that at a secret Consistory in Rome Archbishop Ireland was named to be raised to a Cardinalate, along with Archbishop Satolli. This course was urged on the Holy See not only by Satolli, but by Cardinal Gibbons, in order to give signal confirmation in America of the Pope's liberal policy.

DIED FROM THE HEAT.

Fireman Burns Overcome in a Cold-Storage Warehouse.

Owen Burns, thirty-two years old, of 164 Dupont street, Greenpoint, was overcome by the heat at 12 o'clock this morning while at work in the engine-room in the cold storage warehouse 144 Reade street.

He was taken to the Chambers Street Hospital, and he died shortly after arriving there. He was a married man, Burns was employed as a fireman.

He went on duty at 6 o'clock last night. The boilers for making steam for the engine room of the building are exceptionally cool, downstairs is like the black hole of Calcutta.

Mr. Burns, twenty-eight years old, of 325 East Thirty-third street, was found dead in the basement of the building at 12 o'clock this morning. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital, where it is supposed she was overcome by the heat.

AN IMMIGRANT LOST.

Young George Berger, from Bremen, Mysteriously Disappears.

Detective Groden, of the Bridge Office, caused an alarm to be sent out from Police Headquarters this morning for George Berger, twenty years old, an immigrant, who has been missing since June 16.

Berger, in company with his cousin Emil, left Bremen, Germany, on the steamship Columbia, from Bremen. They stopped that night at the Continental Hotel, and next day Berger came to New York to find his uncle, Max Reinitz, at 541 East Twelfth street. He did not find him, and has not been seen since. His uncle found the girl, Emilie.

CORRIGAN TO FIGHT.

That Is the Report Current in Western Turf Circles.

CHICAGO, June 20.—It was reported to-day that Edward Corrigan, owner of Hawthorne, having been refused Turf Congress membership, will not apply to the Congress for a license for his track. This will make all owners, jockeys and officials who continue at Hawthorne after June 23 outlaws of the turf.

Corrigan is quoted as saying that if the Congress will not admit his track to membership he will get along without any recognition from the organization.

DRINKING, when done artistically, with taste and discrimination, is a most attractive pastime. Never attempt to combine it with anything else. If you can't stop, write Manager.

OFF FOR THE ARCTIC.

Peary's Auxiliary Party Sailed from Brooklyn To-day.

Will Reach Mrs. Peary at Inglefield Gulf About July 25.

To Make Important Surveys and Bring the Explorer Home.

The seven members of the Peary expedition left at noon to-day for the cool regions of the Arctic on the steamship Portia.

While New Yorkers are sweltering under Forecaster Dunn's most torrid temperatures the Peary auxiliaries will be gambolling over the refreshing snow fields, picnicking on glaciers, playing tag with polar bears, and their brows will be cooled by the Arctic zephyrs.

The present expedition was arranged for by Mr. Peary before he left for the north in July last, and started under the direction of the Philadelphia Geographical Society. It is made up as follows: Henry G. Bryant, Secretary of the Geographical Society, leader; Herbert L. Bridgman, of 604 Carlton avenue, Brooklyn; William Libbey, Jr., Professor of Physical Geography at Princeton College; T. C. Chamberlain, Professor of Geology at the University of Chicago; Dr. Axel Ahlin, of Sweden; zoologist; Dr. H. E. Wetherill, of Philadelphia, surgeon; and Emil Diebitzsch, Mrs. Peary's brother, civil engineer, of Port Royal, S. C.

The Red Cross line steamer Portia left Robinson's stores, Brooklyn, at noon to-day with the members of the expedition. The ship is a third-class vessel, and took with them one year's full supplies for Arctic travel of every conceivable kind, including food, clothing, shelter, small boats, fishing tackle and hydraulic ice-jacks.

Mr. and Mrs. Peary and their party will particularly appreciate the full files of the World and other papers and magazines published since Mr. Peary left the United States.

Before the Portia sailed Mr. Bryant and Mr. Diebitzsch were seen by an "Evening World" reporter. They expect to reach Inglefield Gulf on Monday and transfer their party and supplies to the steamer Falcon.

The Falcon will proceed north about July 4. The first stop will be at Godhavn, a small island, North Greenland, where the expedition their official recognition.

Sailing northward, Melville Bay will be crossed as quickly as the condition of the ice will permit, and short Arctic travel will be made to the Eskimo settlements near Cape York. Then the Falcon will sail for the pointed straits, where the Peary headquarters at Bowdoin Bay, in Inglefield Gulf, in latitude 77 North, 15 West, is hoped, will be reached July 25.

At Inglefield Gulf the expedition will meet Mrs. Peary, who, with her two sons, and Esquimaux servants, remained there in comfortable quarters while her husband was away. Mr. Peary and his party will be warmly greeted by them.

Mr. Peary and his men are not expected to leave yet, but will stay in the bay until the middle of September, and the auxiliaries will have about six weeks' time on their hands.

If the conditions are favorable the expedition will explore the Baffin's Bay shore of Ellesmere Land, and will make a dash for the Cape York strait, where the two Swedish naturalists, Bjorling and Karlén, were killed in 1892, and who left a message which was found by a whaling ship in October of the same year, stating that they intended seeking a refuge with the natives at Ellesmere.

Jones' Sound will also be penetrated. If the ice conditions prove favorable the party will survey the 900 miles of known coast line forming the northeast shore of Jones' Sound and the western border of Ellesmere Land for the purpose of making a chart.

Ellesmere is an area of 10,000 square miles, and is one of the few large territories in the north whose outlines have yet been defined. It is believed that a tribe of Esquimaux live in Ellesmere Land, and will be explored by the expedition.

Mr. Peary said he would return with the Falcon to Bowdoin Bay by Sept. 1, so that nothing would interfere with the prompt transportation of the Peary party to the United States.

Mr. Bryant said that the Falcon was a well-tested exploring vessel; one that could go into the ice as far as any ship could, and was as fast, as practical, and then the whole expedition will be equipped with the latest and smaller boats and sledges procured from Bowdoin Bay will be resorted to for further explorations.

Mr. Peary is now pursuing his Arctic researches on three distinct lines. If fortune has been favorable to him the entire north coast of Greenland has been explored, and a 250-mile hold goods, including the wardrobe.

Alexander said that he wanted the money on his mortgage. Mr. Boutchiet was not at home then. On the night that the house was stripped of the effects, witness said that she didn't know how Alexander got hold of the keys, but she saw him have the keys, ring, attached to which were all the keys of the house, including the trunk, the front door, and the back door.

The witness described how she was terrified by the manner of Alexander, and swooned afterwards, being revived by vigorous treatment by her husband.

The witness then described the property taken away by Alexander, and said that in the list in the mortgage held by him, saying that it was all in the house the night of the robbery, and that he was taken away by him. Among other articles carried away were a pawn ticket for a diamond ring and a bill in a card case, which were naturally not included in the mortgage.

Mr. Boutchiet swore that she and her husband went to Dr. Grimsby's house in Ninety-fifth street, to raise some money to satisfy Alexander. As soon as possible they returned, but during the interim Alexander and his men had looted the house.

Col. Haile took the witness then, but succeeded in obtaining nothing favorable to his client from her.

Identify George Hope, who was taken into court. She positively recognized him as Ninety-fifth street, to raise some money to satisfy Alexander. As soon as possible they returned, but during the interim Alexander and his men had looted the house.

Mrs. Boutchiet, after leaving the witness stand, stated that it was carried from the court room.

YOUNG LARKIN DYING.

Once-Famous Pitcher Succumbing to Intemperance.

Frank Larkin, thirty-eight years old, who has no home, is dying in the Eastern District Hospital, Williamsburg, where he was taken this morning, suffering from cholera.

Ten or twelve years ago Larkin was a famous baseball player. He pitched for the Brooklyn team, and was in a ball in a card case, which were naturally not included in the mortgage.

A THIRD TRACK FOR THE "L."

Justice Ingraham Modifies the Injunction in the Ninth Avenue Case.

BIG OBSTACLE OVERCOME.

Construction Between Gansevoort and Eighty-third Streets Legal.

CONNECTIONS EASY TO MAKE.

This, Practically, Is All the Company Needs to Have a Triple Track Road.

Justice Ingraham, of the Supreme Court, to-day signed an order modifying the injunction granted last February enjoining the Manhattan Railway Company from building a third track on the Ninth avenue branch of their "L" road.

Under the modified order the Company can build a third track along Ninth avenue from Gansevoort to Eighty-third street and thereby have a continuous track for express trains.

The application for the modification of the injunction was made by Lawyer Julien T. Davies, and Assistant Corporation Counsel Connelly appeared for the city.

Mr. Davies presented an affidavit made by Frank K. Hain, Second Vice-President and General Manager of the road, in which he stated that the application for this change had been made to and approved by the Railroad Commissioners.

Mr. Haines stated the change is sought for the purpose of bettering the service and to avoid the blocking of trains in case of accident. Switches are to be constructed at each station for this purpose.

Mr. Davies stated that the Company had secured the permission of the Rapid Transit Commission for the building of the third track.

After these statements had been made to Justice Ingraham, he signed the order.

It is understood the work will begin by removing the One Hundred and Sixty-third street and One Hundred and Twenty-third street crossings between the tracks, and making side stations at these points, the "L" can soon have a continuous third track from Gansevoort street to the Harlem River.

MISS RUSSELL ILL.

Result of a Surgical Operation Performed Last Monday.

The Fair Singer Is Said to Be in a Very Critical Condition.

Her Husband, Perugini, Sailed for Europe on the New York To-day.

Lillian Russell lies seriously ill at her home, 315 West Seventy-seventh street, as the result of a surgical operation performed last Monday afternoon.

The operation in itself was successful, but the consequent shock and weakness have prostrated the fair singer. She is in absolute seclusion and sees none but her sister, Miss Hattie Leonard, her little daughter, her physician, Dr. J. W. McKernan, and a trained nurse.

EVEN TOOK MONEY AND A RING

Mrs. Boutchiet Testifies Against John V. Alexander.

After Leaving the Witness Stand She Fainted Away.

The trial of John V. Alexander was continued before Judge Martineau, in Part I, General Sessions, this morning. Mrs. Boutchiet, the pretty young wife of the complainant against Alexander, was called to the stand by Assistant District-Attorney McIntyre.

The little French woman is only slightly acquainted with the English language, and she was obliged to relate her story through an interpreter.

The witness described how Alexander came to her house, 217 West One Hundred and Fifteenth street, three or four days previous to Jan. 11, the night when he came with two or three others and carried away every piece of household goods, including the wardrobe.

Alexander said that he wanted the money on his mortgage. Mr. Boutchiet was not at home then. On the night that the house was stripped of the effects, witness said that she didn't know how Alexander got hold of the keys, but she saw him have the keys, ring, attached to which were all the keys of the house, including the trunk, the front door, and the back door.

The witness described how she was terrified by the manner of Alexander, and swooned afterwards, being revived by vigorous treatment by her husband.

The witness then described the property taken away by Alexander, and said that in the list in the mortgage held by him, saying that it was all in the house the night of the robbery, and that he was taken away by him. Among other articles carried away were a pawn ticket for a diamond ring and a bill in a card case, which were naturally not included in the mortgage.

Mr. Boutchiet swore that she and her husband went to Dr. Grimsby's house in Ninety-fifth street, to raise some money to satisfy Alexander. As soon as possible they returned, but during the interim Alexander and his men had looted the house.

Col. Haile took the witness then, but succeeded in obtaining nothing favorable to his client from her.

Identify George Hope, who was taken into court. She positively recognized him as Ninety-fifth street, to raise some money to satisfy Alexander. As soon as possible they returned, but during the interim Alexander and his men had looted the house.

Mrs. Boutchiet, after leaving the witness stand, stated that it was carried from the court room.

CITY CLUB SNUBBED.

Its Proposed Amendments Adversely Reported by Albany.

(By Associated Press.)
ALBANY, June 20.—There was an unusually large attendance of members this morning when the Constitutional Convention met.

A hot debate was precipitated by the adverse report of the Committee having in charge the proposed amendments of

"NOT GUILTY."

P. DIVER, POLICE JUSTICE

Judge Diver Acquits Bunco King Diver.

MISS RUSSELL ILL.

Result of a Surgical Operation Performed Last Monday.

The Fair Singer Is Said to Be in a Very Critical Condition.

Her Husband, Perugini, Sailed for Europe on the New York To-day.

Lillian Russell lies seriously ill at her home, 315 West Seventy-seventh street, as the result of a surgical operation performed last Monday afternoon.

The operation in itself was successful, but the consequent shock and weakness have prostrated the fair singer. She is in absolute seclusion and sees none but her sister, Miss Hattie Leonard, her little daughter, her physician, Dr. J. W. McKernan, and a trained nurse.

Other friends and relatives are absolutely excluded and all correspondence and newspapers are kept from her, and she is permitted to come into the slightest touch with her own business affairs and the events of the world.

It had been the intention of the family to keep the operation and illness a secret, but Miss Russell was herself the indirect cause of the revelation. She was suffering intensely and yesterday begged to see her ill girl, Miss Leonard, her sister, went to the convent where the child is at school, to bring her home.

She then met Henry E. Dixey and Chaucey Olcott, who were visiting their children. They immediately asked why Miss Russell had not called for her child, and Miss Leonard said that the mother was sick and made some mention of the operation.

The report got on the street last night, and this morning a newspaper published a statement that Miss Russell was shortly to go to a hospital to submit to a critical operation.

When an "Evening World" reporter reached Miss Russell's pretty home, overlooking the Hudson, this morning he was told that after Miss Leonard had been told of the publication of the report, she was as still as a tomb, and that she was not to be seen by anyone but her mother and Miss Leonard.

Miss Leonard expressed herself as distressed at the publication of the report.

"My sister wouldn't go to a hospital if she had to have twenty doctors on all the time in the house," said she. "I know it would worry her very much if she heard of this, but she said that she was not to be seen by anyone but her mother and Miss Leonard."

"She sees no one, and is allowed to read all the time in the house. She is absolutely out of the world, and it is necessary to keep her so. If we don't do this, she will go to a hospital."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

"The operation to which she submitted was performed by Dr. McKernan, but has since been very sick."

IT WILL BE WARMER.

Pantata Dunn Says Prepare to Roast To-morrow.

Hot Wave Coming in Advance of a Big Storm.

From Over in New Jersey De Voe Predicts Big Thunder-Storms.

Ellas B. Dunn, the "big Pantata" of the Weather Bureau, whose offices are located away up in the top of the Equitable Building, is busy trying to manufacture some cooler weather for the city.

He has learned to-day that Miss Russell has as yet signed no contract nor made any definite arrangements for the future. Her contract with Canby & Co. is still in the hands of the lawyers, and it is thought that she will not be able to get out of the city until next week.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.

She has offered to pay for the use of the city hall, but she is very much dissatisfied with their management.